1. About the Fund

Ki te Ara Whakamua: Māori AOD Community Action Fund

Ki te Ara Whakamua: Māori AOD Community Action Fund is a one-off contestable fund established to support Māori-led solutions to reduce alcohol and other drug harm. The overall vision for the fund is Kia tika te wā; kia tika te wāhi, kia tika te tangata; kia ora te whānau – that whānau will thrive and flourish, with the right people, in the right place, at the right time.

He Ara Oranga: Report of the Government Inquiry into Mental Health and Addiction (2018) showed that “50–80% of New Zealanders will experience mental distress or addiction challenges or both in their lifetime”. These challenges can not only affect an individual’s ability to care for themselves but can also cause considerable concern for their whānau and loved ones.

Hapori and whānau Māori have demonstrated that when given the opportunity and resources to develop their own solutions, they can mobilise quickly, reach deep into their communities, and achieve results that matter. Their solutions help to reduce the risk and burden of disease while helping to achieve better and more equitable health and wellbeing outcomes for Aotearoa.

Strategic Context

There have been many reviews of the mental health and addiction space over the years, reporting care gaps and key recommendations, including:

Kia Manawanui Aotearoa (2021), the long-term pathway to mental wellbeing, which recognises that Māori experience unfair and avoidable inequities in terms of mental wellbeing and intends that this long-term pathway will address equity through ‘for Māori, by Māori’ approaches. It also identified the need to transform the mental health, addiction and mental wellbeing workforce to enable it to respond to people’s mental wellbeing needs and to intervene early, as a priority action area.

In implementing this long-term pathway, the Government will strengthen Māori determination of services by and for Māori, and we will help iwi, hapū, whānau and Māori communities to exercise their authority to improve their mental wellbeing.

Pae Tū: Hauora Māori Health Strategy (2023) outlined five key priorities to build on the health reforms, including to grow the Māori health workforce and sector to match the community needs.

The Workforce Development and Leadership for the Addiction Treatment report identified (2023) that it is crucial to address how the Māori workforce can express their tino rangatiratanga and mana motuhake.

Whare Tukutuku

Whare Tukutuku is a National Māori Addiction Centre that sits within the korowai of Te Rau Ora. Their approach is to elevate an alcohol and other drug (AOD) workforce that is whānau-centred and community-focused.

Whare Tukutuku acknowledges the absolute importance of whānau working within their own hapori, in places that acknowledge whānau mana, rangatiratanga, and connection to whenua.

The moemoeā is to awhi whānau and community leaders that will support the transformation of the alcohol and other drug sector and enable a future where whānau thrive and flourish.

Contribution to long-term outcomes – Pae Ora – Healthy Futures
Mauri Ora Healthy Individuals	Mauri ora is about healthy individuals and ways of living. To enjoy good health and wellbeing, people need their culture affirmed, a sense of identity and autonomy, and the ability to make healthy choices. This includes the food and drinks we consume, how well we can engage in physical activity, and the impact of alcohol and other drugs on our lives.
Whānau Ora Healthy Families	Whānau ora is about healthy families and ensuring whānau are empowered to thrive, live healthy lifestyles and experience intergenerational wellbeing. This includes a sense of belonging and secure identity, access to good healthcare, housing, and education, and being able to confidently participate in society.
Wai Ora Healthy Environments	Wai ora is about healthy environments, the ability to engage and the quality of interactions we can have with our surrounding environment. This includes access to safe drinking water, clean air, quality housing, active transport options and being prepared for any emergencies. It also means that we must be good guardians of the land and natural resources.

3. Vision for the Fund

Ki te Ara Whakamua: Māori AOD Community Action Fund a one-off contestable fund established to support Māori-led solutions to reduce alcohol and other drug harm. 5. Contribution to Long-Term Outcomes – Pae Ora

The Fund aligns to the three aspects of Pae Ora (Healthy Futures): Wai Ora (healthy environments), Mauri Ora (healthy individuals) and Whānau Ora (healthy families). These are all interconnected to enable healthy futures and positive wellbeing outcomes for Māori, their whānau and future generations.

Wai Ora is about health environments, the ability to engage and the quality of interactions we can have with our surrounding environment. This includes access to safe drinking water, clean air, quality housing, active transport options and being prepared for any emergencies. It also means that we must be good guardians of the land and natural resources.
